Teenagers: young, bright, inquisitive, active, and alert

An excellent stage for investing in the future and learning languages

The future belongs to multilingual generations; adolescence is a great moment to naturally and easily learn languages. Language holidays are without a doubt one of the best investments for teenagers.

Spanish: a key language for new generations

The Spanish speaking population is growing fast and has already become the third most internationally spoken language in the world. More than 500 million people speak Spanish around the world and Latin America is becoming key in the process of globalisation and in the world of business. In a few years, the United States will become the largest Spanish speaking country on the globe.

Law, tourism, education, engineering, publishing, medicine; whatever the young generation decides to study, Spanish will be an asset and assure a greater chance for success.

clic international house knows how to teach spanish to teenagers

With more than 25 years of experience teaching languages to children of all ages, clic ih has developed high quality services, excellent pedagogical material and an immersion programme aimed at ensuring that they enjoy their experience and, at the same time, efficiently learn Spanish. Fun, action and immersion are key concepts for teaching young learners.

clic ih has a team of specialised tutors who know how to combine classes, activities and leisure so as to guarantee that students improve their oral and written knowledge by playing and practising Spanish inside and outside the classroom.

amar, vivir y sentir en español

Immersion from dawn to dusk

Whether teenagers come to Seville or Cadiz or even combine the two destinations, they are fully immersed in the language: classes are in Spanish, leisure and sport activities are in Spanish, the host family is Spanish and all simple daily tasks are carried out in Spanish.

Quality services and caring host families for youngsters

Young learners are placed in selected and caring host families with full board and share a double room with a student from another country. Host families are warm and inviting, meals are well balanced and healthy. All activities are carried out within a supervised, safe environment and teens are accompanied at all times. All families are familiar with the expectations and needs of juniors; they integrate youngsters in the Spanish way of living and reinforce the use and practise of Spanish language.
