WHAT'S MORE . . .

1. If you would like to combine your Spanish course with some voluntary work in a local NGO, let us know and we'll help you organise it. It's a great way to practice your Spanish. Please note that this sort of work is normally only available to students who will be staying for three months or more, but there are occasionally opportunities for volunteer workers staying for shorter periods.
2. Programme of social and cultural activities.
In addition to organising guided visits to some of the many places of interest in and around Barcelona, we can also organise a range of other activities including Spanish cooking classes at a local restaurant, salsa dance classes and conversation exchange evenings with students who are studying English.
3. IH Barcelona does its best to lessen the impact our activities have on the environment. We are members of EMAS (the European Union's Environmental Management Audit Scheme) and to offset the carbon generated by our students flying into Barcelona, we undertake to plant a tree for every single student who books a course with us. Not just any tree, our promise is to plant a fruit tree on your behalf in Ethiopia. This means that we're not just offsetting carbon, we're also aiming to help those people who most need our support. For more information on this project, please visit this page on our website: <http://www.ihes.com/bcn/spanish/trees.html>
